DATA AND AI ENGINEERING INTERN – 01/09/2024 – 31/08/2025

- Architected a web app that automates trend report generation from daily news for consultancy needs by integrating internal databases, LLM APIs (Claude, OpenAI), and Google Sheets. The solution was commercialized, securing a NT$10 million contract through competitive bidding.
- Established and deployed a web app that accesses scraped news data from an internal database, generates daily summaries via LLM APIs, and automatically sends newsletters to subscribers at designated times.
- Built and maintained an analytical dashboard to monitor monthly sales performance of intelligent vending machines in the office building.
- Developed and maintained automated Python data pipelines processing 1,000,000+ Amazon product records using advanced pandas operations (multi-key groupby, aggregations, pivoting, custom transformations) to provide structured data for downstream analytics dashboards.
- Provided interpretation services for Japanese client visits, delivered comprehensive business presentations in Japanese, and facilitated partnership negotiations resulting in collaboration with the Japan Research Institute.

C2L2 LAB - DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS, NTU – TAIPEI, TAIWAN

RESEARCH ASSISTANT – 01/09/2024 – 31/08/2025

Data Science & Law Economics Project:

- Developed automated data pipeline to convert PDF legal documents into structured dataframes for analysis of historical national law examinations.
- Implemented Claude Batch API integration to accelerate large-scale translation workflows.
- Established benchmark that evaluates LLM performance on Taiwanese legal question-answering tasks to assess AI capabilities in specialized legal domains.
